Outline Spring Clean-Up Plans

MAY OFFER PRIZES FOR FINEST LAWNS, FLOWERS

Chamber of Commerce Civics Committee's Members In Charge Of Campaign and Ask All Citizens to Co-operate

PLANS for a spring clean-up of the city of Glendale were told yesterday to the directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce at their luncheon by George R. Karr, chairman of the civics committee, when he presented two letters that he had written to the Glendale City Council, and which he asked to have approved by the board, suggesting that prizes be offered for the best kept lawns, gardens, the best display of flowers, and other evidences of care in the surroundings of Glendale homes. The newspapers of the city and all civic organizations will be asked to co-operate in the clean-up, which will last for a week and which will, it is claimed, entirely alter the appearance of the city.

Rubbish will be collected and deposited at the curbs, where it may be easily gathered by the city trucks, and the vacant lots and alleys will also be cleared of rubbish. The plans as told by Mr. Karr will be submitted to the City Council, which has signified its willingness to lend whatever aid it can in making the clean-up a success.

Plan to Lower Road

Mr. Karr also reported on various other matters that his committee has had in hand, notably regarding the plans for lowering of Cahuenga Pass road, and he advocated that a committee be appointed to work with the association that has been formed in supervising districts Nos. 3, 4 and 5, which is seeking to have a number of improvements made in the streets and boulevards, and which is trying to work out the proportion of the costs to be borne by the county and the various cities.

P. J. Hazelden submitted a report of the meeting of the Biltmore Association in Los Angeles last week, when the question of the widening of Second street west from the Figueroa street tunnel, and of Glendale boulevard was taken up and discussed.

Merchants' Exposition

Contracts for space in the Merchants' Industrial Exposition have reached $6550, according to H. S. McCormack, chairman of the publicity committee, who stated that the Chamber of Commerce and the Glendale Credit Association, the sponsors of the exposition, are now in the clear. Mr. McCormack also asked that the organization express its appreciation of the work done by J. E. Endicott in securing the bill on ground on which the exposition will be held free of charge to the Chamber of Commerce and the Glendale Credit Association.

The question of a sewer connection that will permit the city to dispose of its sewage through the Los Angeles system was left to the committee that has this branch of the work in hand. The Assembly has passed the bill enabling this city to construct a sewer system with an outlet to the sea through Los Angeles.

A number of other routine matters and communications were taken up and disposed of, and one new member, Dr. F. H. Mageau, who has recently opened an office in the Monarch building, was added to the rolls.

Mrs. Harriet Fox Frank Is Dead After Short Illness

GLENDALE residents, Tuesday Afternoon Club and Eastern Star members will be shocked to learn of the death last night, Tuesday, March 27, 1923, of Mrs. Harriet Fox Frank, widow of the late Eugene C. Frank, at her home at 1558 East Wilson avenue. Mrs. Frank was taken seriously ill Monday and her condition became more serious and her death occurred. Mr. and Mrs. Frank and their daughter and son, Alice and Harrison W. came to Glendale sixteen years ago and all took active parts in the social and civic affairs of the city.

Mr. Frank was an artist with an international reputation and in recognition of his accomplishments he was made an honorary member of the Tuesday Afternoon club. Mrs. Frank, who was a cultured woman, received the same honor from the club.

Mrs. Frank was a native of Hartford, New York, and was 64 years of age at the time of her death. Mr. Frank's death occurred in January 1914. Surviving Mrs. Frank are her daughter, Mrs. Harry James of 1560 East Wilson avenue; and her son Harrison W. Frank of Los Angeles, and a sister, Mrs. Augusta Wehneke, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Funeral services are to be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Frank home at 1558 East Wil-

Largest Gusher in U. S. Comes in at Signal Hill Today

LONG BEACH, March 28.—With a shock that shook the entire field, Andrews No. 3, a Shell Oil company well at Signal Hill, came in today with a flow estimated at 30,000 barrels a day, the largest gusher in the United States.

The well covered a large area with oil and defied initial efforts of available drilling crews to control it, and an urgent call was sent out for men and equipment to bring the gusher under control.

OUTDOOR SERVICE FOR GRADUATION

Grammar Schools to Hold Twilight Exercises, Education Board

The Board of Education met last night and granted the Wilson Avenue Intermediate school and the Glendale Avenue Intermediate school permission to hold separate outdoor twilight graduation exercises the evening of Thursday, June 21, which will be the same night as the graduation ceremonies of Glendale Union High school.

Because of the fact that Mrs. Eva C. Barton of 318 East Mountain street and E. H. Learned of 1543 Glenwood road were not present at last night's meeting, discussions resulted in a number of motions being laid upon the table. Board members present were J. D. Hibben of 123 East Laurel street, Mrs. Arthur Brown of 201 Milford street and Dr. P. O. Lucas of 115 South Verdugo road. David Black, business agent of the school system, and Richard D. White, local superintendent, and Miss Murray Longley, stenographer, were present also.

Bernhardt May Be Buried In Paris Pantheon

PARIS, March 28.—The influential newspaper L'Ouvrier today suggested that France break all precedents and bury Madame Sarah Bernhardt, world famous actress, in the pantheon—the West-minster Abbey of Paris. There is no woman buried in this historic graveyard.

So great has been the mourning over Mme. Bernhardt that demand is becoming general for state recognition of her greatness. Some believe that no woman since Joan of Arc has focused the eyes of the world upon France to such an extent.

There are indications that opposition government officials against state funeral for Mme. Bernhardt is breaking down.

FORGET POLITICS, JOHNSON URGES

Pasadena Senator Exposes Foes of Richardson in Budget Fight

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—In a dramatic plea, "Let us forget politics," Senator A. Burlingame Johnson of Pasadena, yesterday afternoon ripped the mask from the political attack on Governor Richardson which Clyde Seavey, chairman of the railroad commission, had launched.

"Answer my questions from the bottom of your heart," the senator requested in the joint assembly and senate hearing on the budget. It was the heaviest blow the administration has yet struck. Senator Johnson showed able floor leadership in his appeal for the administrative and executive heads of the state to get together.

While the finale was being written on the budget hearings, a new hornets' nest was stirred up in the state legislature by Assemblyman S. L. Heisinger of Selma, who introduced a concurrent resolution calling for an investigation of the state railroad commission by the oil industry. Curtailing of production, adulteration of same, price fixing and other alleged abuses will be thoroughly probed, if his measure carries. The work goes to the state railroad commission and the latter is authorized to publish its findings.

Assemblyman Charles Dawson of Huntington Park, who introduced the original resolution for investigation of the industry, requested it be tabled in committee, believing Heisinger has hit upon the right scheme to remedy the situation.

DUBLIN, March 28.—Ten thousand republican irregular prisoners are now held in jails and in internment camps by the Free Staters, it was revealed today by President William Cosgrave in a speech before the Dail Eireann.

URGES PUBLIC HEARING OF BUS LINE QUESTION

Godfrey Edwards Tells C. of C. Directors Glendale Transportation Problems In Need Of Thorough Investigation

BUS transportation in Glendale from the point of view of the sub-divider was the subject of an address made by Godfrey Edwards, of Los Angeles, member of the firm of Edwards & Wildey, before the meeting of the board of directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce at their regular weekly luncheon in the Citizens' building yesterday, during which he reviewed the result of the appeal that he had made to the Glendale City Council last week for the granting of a franchise to the Pacific Electric to run bus lines through certain portions of the city in the Kenneth road district.

Mr. Edwards pointed out, as substantiating his claim to speak as a Glendale subdivider, that he and his associates have sold 1700 lots in this city, on which more than 500 homes have been erected, and that they have expended $15,600 in advertising Glendale in various publications. He added that his firm is now interested in Glendale property to the extent of more than $100,000, and stated that he is anxious to see a system of bus transportation run out to the territory in which his property lies. He also declared that the present action of the Pacific Electric in asking for permission to run busses on the streets here is the direct result of a campaign that he has been waging for several weeks in an effort to have transportation improved.

In reviewing the situation relating to motor bus transportation in Glendale, Mr. Edwards paid special attention to the application that has been filed by C. D. Gulick, representing the Glendale Motor Bus Company, pointing out that, under the plans presented by Mr. Gulick, the Glendale Motor Bus Company is to lease busses from the Pacific Motor Bus Company when the latter has built them, which, he declared, could not be done until funds had been raised to build a factory and equip it and manufacture the busses, and the necessary funds would not be available until Mr. Gulick had received permission to sell stock in his company. Mr. Edwards urged the directors of the Chamber of Commerce to insist on a public hearing on the bus question before the City Council before any permits are granted, in order that the people interested in the transportation question may be assured that the company securing such permits is in a position to carry out the contract to be given it.

Nothing is ever accomplished for the good of any person or any community by fostering the doctrine of hate," concluded Mr. Edwards, "and the flame of resentment that has been fanned into life against the Pacific Electric should be quenched if Glendale hopes to meet with any consideration in its request for lower fares at the meeting of the committee from the Glendale Chamber of Commerce with the representatives of the railway tomorrow."

S. S. Gilhuly asked Mr. Edwards whether the Pacific Electric had ever shown any intention to give Glendale more transportation facilities until it feared the inauguration of a new bus system, and the latter declared that the Pacific Electric had never been asked for more transportation, basing his statements on testimony which he said had been given before the state railroad commission by Councilman Sam Davis and E. F. Sanders, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Middle West Is Again In Grip Of Cold Weather

In the Great Lakes region an average low temperature of 14 degrees was recorded two hours after sunrise. In St. Paul, Minn., reported 14 below zero. In Milwaukee, Wis., it was four above zero.

"There is no warmer weather in the immediate vicinity," said the Chicago weather forecaster, cheerfully.

LOCAL BUILDERS NAME ORGANIZER

Henry Moiz to Take Charge Of Forming Association; Meeting March 20

The organization committee of the forthcoming Builders' Exchange took important action at their meeting last night in the offices of May & Hellman, contractors, appointing Henry Moiz secretary and general organizer of the exchange.

Mr. Moiz, who lives at 363 West Lexington Drive, is a man of broad experience along this line, having organized many clubs, associations, exchanges and lodges it is declared. The fact that he is, in addition, an attorney, makes him, the committee feel, an ideal man for the position.

Meeting March 20
It was not definitely decided at last night's session where the big meeting of Glendale contractors and builders on Friday night, March 30, will be held, but it will probably be at the Harriet Mae rooms, on Harvard street and Maryland avenue, and will be a dinner affair, starting at about 6:15 o'clock at night.

A definite statement by the committee as to this meeting on Friday night, where it will convene and what will be its purpose, is promised tomorrow.

The organization committee appointing Mr. Moiz secretary of the Glendale Builders' Exchange comprises Peter L. Ferry, chairman; W. J. Curren and J. C. May.

L. A. Car and Bus in Collision; 20 Injured

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—More than a score of persons were injured in a terrific collision between a street car and a large sight-seeing bus at Sixth and Hobart streets shortly before noon today. Both vehicles were wrecked. The injured persons were extricated from the wreckage by the police and pedestrians and rushed to hospitals in all parts of the city.

According to those who saw the accident, the large sight-seeing bus was carrying about 30 persons to Culver City, and drew into the intersection of Sixth street from Hobart street, and was forced to stop on the car tracks in an attempt to avoid hitting another machine. The street car was west-bound on Sixth street and could not be stopped before it crashed into the bus, witnesses stated. The heavy electric car struck the motor truck in the middle, reducing it to a twisted mass of steel and splintered wood, and carried it about twenty feet.

The driver of the car with which the truck collided was taken to the hospital in an unconscious condition.

LOST LADS HIDDEN AWAY IN GYPSY CARAVAN, NOW BELIEF OF AUTHORITIES

Little Fellows Disappear Last Saturday; Posses Still Unable To Uncover Single Clew

SAN BERNARDINO, March 28.—Posses of officers were dispatched from Redlands and the Yucaipa valley today by Sheriff W. A. Shay in a new search for little Dickey Jensen, 6, and his younger chum, Dean Meecham, 4, missing San Bernardino children, now believed by the officers to have been kidnapped by gypsies, following their disappearance last Saturday. Police of southern California and Arizona joined in the search today following numerous reports of two white boys having been seen with a gypsy caravan that late Sunday passed through Redlands headed for the desert.

Lightning Cause of Oil Fire; Damage Close to Million

NEW ORLEANS, March 28.—Lightning which early today struck in the center of a group of fifty oil tanks belonging to the Sinclair Refining company, nine miles below the city in St. Bernard parish, started a fire which was still raging at noon with an estimated loss of $500,000 to $1,000,000. At noon two tanks containing 11,000,000 gallons of oil each, and two other smaller ones, had been destroyed and a fifth was ablaze.

BATTLE AGAINST MOUNTAIN FIRE

Flames in Region of Santa Ana Range Will Be Controlled, Belief

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—Meager reports from the almost inaccessible region of the Santa Ana mountains above San Juan Capistrano today indicated that unless the north wind, which died down during the night, freshens again today, the force of fire fighters will be able to cope with the disastrous fire burning in the upper Bell and Trabuco canyons.

All the men available were sent into the mountains from Santa Ana by the officials of the Cleveland national forest and were fighting to prevent the blaze from sweeping southward into the brush covered slopes of Verdugo canyon. There are few resorts in the section, it was stated, the nearest being San Juan Hot Springs, but reports from there were to the effect that little apprehension was being felt there as the nearest flames were six miles away.

Soon Under Control
Three small fires, one on the north side of the Sierra Madre range and others above Monrovia and Duarte, were reported in the last twenty-four hours by rangers of the Angelus national forest. While these fires were soon brought under control, officials of the forest service expressed apprehension that the lack of rain in the last six weeks had resulted in a big fire hazard in all the mountains of this section and extra precautions were taken to prevent fires being started in the forest areas.

Harding Demands Complete Probe Into Sugar Prices

WASHINGTON, March 28.—For the second time within a week, President Harding has observed sugar prices and has acted to determine who or what is to blame. The president's first move was to order the department of justice to investigate to determine if a "criminal conspiracy" existed to boost the price of sugar by manipulating the market.

Today, in the face of a charge by Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic national committee, that the new Republican tariff, was the real cause, the president instructed the tariff commission to make a thorough inquiry into the reaction of the sugar market to the import duties established by the 67th congress.

Mr. Harding's order was telegraphed from Florida to Thomas O. Marvin, commission chairman. Arrangements for the investigation already had been made by the commission, pursuant to authority granted by congress, but there were indications today that Mr. Harding's personal interest in the matter would result in a probe of greater dimensions. The executive has the power

Although the search by the officers shifted from the territory near the boys' home to the desert, neighbors searched Warm creek at its junction with the Santa Ana river in the belief that the children may have waded into deep water while at play and were drowned.

Another theory entertained by officers searching for the boys is that they stole a ride on trucks operating between San Bernardino and Los Angeles and may be lost somewhere near Los Angeles.

Search Intensified
The two boys have been missing from their homes since last Saturday and officers are positive they have been spirited away by the roaming nomads.

Search for the boys yesterday was intensified by a telephone message received at the sheriff's office from a woman who said that she had seen two children answering the description of "Dickey" and Dean attempt to escape from a touring car piloted by gypsies at Sixteenth and Figueroa streets in Los Angeles. They were recaptured, she said, and the car sped away.

In hopes of finding the children a posse of seven armed men thoroughly searched a gypsy settlement of 300 men, women and children northeast of Huntington Park, near Los Angeles, last night, but their search was in vain.

Father In Hospital
James Jensen, father of the older boy, is confined to a hospital recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident. Mrs. Jensen is almost prostrate and is sure that some one has stolen her son.

Mr. Meecham, father of the younger boy, has been untiring in his efforts to locate the two, while Mrs. Meecham, with a 2-months-old baby in her arms, is forced to remain at home bravely fighting off despair.

Three-fourths Jury Bill Passes Senate

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—The "three-fourths jury" amendment to the state constitution, over which the senate has been at loggerheads for several days, finally passed the upper house today by a vote of 28 to 11.

Opponents of the measure which would permit the finding of verdicts in criminal cases by nine members of a jury instead of twelve, say they have the votes to defeat the amendment in the assembly.

After a most enjoyable visit of several weeks in Glendale, Mrs.
Clyde Bradley Camerer left Monday on her way east to join her husband, Lieut. Commander C. B.
Camerer, April 24 in Philadelphia. During her stay in Glendale Mrs. Camerer was the guest

Mrs. J. D. Camerer of 319 West

many friends have complimented her with numerous social affairs.

As a farewell honor to Mrs.

K. P. LODGE WILL
GREET VISITORSMembers of Other Lodges
Will Be Welcomed by Local Knights

The Knights of Pythias held a rousing session last night at their hall at the corner of Park and Brand, several visiting Knights being entertained.

The meeting was particularly interesting from the viewpoint of membership, several new applications being presented and a number of non-affiliated members offering their cards.

A feature of the occasion was the convening of the committee on the American Citizenship contest, of which Attorney Bert P.
Woodard is chairman, the other members being Frank Peters,
Charles B. Guthrie, Attorney A.
H. Davis, Fred Deal, Attorney G.
H. King and Dr. William C. Ma-bury.

The pupils of the Glendale schools are to be awarded certain prizes in connection with this contest, it is understood.

The meeting brought out the fact that the local lodge is busily engaged on a building program which, it is expected, will give them a fine Castle hall of their own, within the year.

Register Is Open
It has been conservatively estimated by Chancellor Commander B. E. Meizer of the local lodge, that there are in Glendale about 1500 Knights who are residents of the city, but are still continuing their affiliation with their old home lodges. It is the desire of the Glendale lodge to get into communication with every non-affiliated visiting Knight in the city for the purpose of extending an invitation to visit the lodge here and also to attend the regular social entertainments.

For that purpose there has been placed at the office of Charles B. Guthrie at 110 West
Broadway in Glendale, a register; and every Knight in Glendale who is not now registered in the Glendale lodge is requested to call upon Brother Guthrie and register, so that the lodge and its entertainment committee can send them regularly invitations to all these affairs and also for the privilege and pleasure of attending the conventions of the lodge.

Church Budget Drive

Under the leadership of Dr. F.
H. Divine of Brooklyn, New York, the Glendale Baptist church is engaged in raising a budget of $125-000 for the erection of a new church.

The first meeting of the campaign was held Sunday afternoon when from a few people $55,000 was pledged. Up to last night $71,000 had been pledged.

Tonight will be the last meeting until Sunday when Dr. Divine will be present at both the morning and evening services. Those not seen at the Sunday services will be visited by teams of canvassers Sunday afternoon.

Glendale Sewer Bill
Passes in Assembly

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—
Assemblyman Frank Weller's bill permitting Glendale to run a sewer line into Los Angeles has been approved by the Assembly with but one dissenting vote.

The bill now goes to the Senate, where and effort will be made to amend it so as to prevent public utilities of municipalities deriving benefit from the measure.

Plans are being made for a state funeral for Dr. G. H. Douglas, aged 63 years, Assemblyman from Crescent city, who dropped dead in a drug store here last night.

A bill in legislative action has been caused by the sudden death of assemblyman Dr. Douglas.

Addresses Women
At the Legislative Section meeting yesterday morning at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse Mrs.
Greenwalt spoke on "How a Bill Becomes a Law." The women also studied several bills now before the assembly.

During the noon hour the Section entertained the club board members at luncheon in the Italian tea room.

Informal Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Kille and son Eugene, of 465 Oak street, entertained at dinner last night Mr.
and Mrs. Charles Starkey and son Robert. Spring flowers in pink and white decorated the table for the three course dinner.

Later in the evening the two boys entertained with a picture show and radio concert.

BLOCK GERMAN PLAN TO BORROW

Allied Commission Must Be Granted Supervision of Proposed Loan

PARIS, March 28.—The inter-allied reparations commission within the next twenty-four hours will send a note to Berlin warning Germany that it is the commission's unanimous decision that the Germans shall not float an internal loan without the commission's permission.

The Belgians voted with the British in opposition to the demand of the French and Italians that, if Germany should make a loan, all or part of the proceeds should be turned over to the commission for disbursement.

The commission voted down the French demand that the Reichsbank be considered an institution of the German state and hence is forbidden to guarantee any internal loan.

Sir John Bradbury and M. De La Croix of Belgium were appointed to draw up a note to Germany. This is the first time Great Britain has taken an active part in the affairs of the commission since the French went into the Ruhr.

VOCALIST PRAISES CLUB ACOUSTICS

Noted Musician Compliments
Glendale Club-
Women on Home

That the auditorium in the new Tuesday Afternoon club house has ideal acoustic properties was the opinion given yesterday afternoon by Hugo Kirchhofer, vocalist, musician and director, who conducted the first community singing hour in the auditorium, preceding the regular program and meeting of the club.

Mr. Kirchhofer is well known for his musical ability, and is recognized nationally as an expert director, and his opinion on the acoustic properties of the auditorium is highly valued by the club women.

During the singing hour yesterday Mr. Kirchhofer directed both light and heavy singing, and at the close he stated that the Orpheus club of Los Angeles, of which he is director, is to give a concert in the Tuesday Afternoon club house the evening of April 14, and he was pleased to report to the club the fine setting they will have for their program.

In further complimenting the club women on their new home, Mr. Kirchhofer said: "We have all seen many of Southern California's beautiful club houses, but there is none that surpasses this building. It seems almost too good to be true, and every club woman in California ought to be privileged to see it."

Holy Week Motif

In recognition of Holy Week the program of the afternoon was featured by an illustrated lecture-recital on "The Passion Play," given by Madame Geneva Johnson-Bishop and Ernest Morrison, tenor; Edna Marxmiller, soprano; Gladys White, soprano, and Mrs. Phillips, accompanist.

During the club meeting before the program there were several announcements and actions of interest to the club members. Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president, presided, and she announced the district convention next week at San Luis Obispo, when Mrs. Charles H. Toll of the Tuesday Afternoon club will be a candidate for the presidency.

The feature gift announced by Mrs. Campbell was a gold candleabra, presented by Mrs. F. S. Card as a memorial to her mother, the late Mrs. J. H. Roundtree of Galesburg, Ill. The candleabra was presented to Mrs. Roundtree by the Women's Relief Corps of Galesburg on the occasion of her golden wedding. Upon her death Mrs. Card received the gift, and she has now presented it to the Tuesday Afternoon club. On a gold base stands a figure of Cupid holding the branched candlestick.

The club has also received a lawn mower, equipped with a grass catcher and oil can, from the Gregg Hardware Company. Another gift is a silver punch ladle from Mrs. N. J. Haynes.

Check for $400

Upon being called upon for her report, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, first vice-president, and chairman of Ways and Means, presented the club treasury with a check for $400 from recent benefits. She stated that $75 was retained in the treasury to carry on further work.

According to Mrs. Montgomery's report the Non-Section group cleared $359 on the St. Patrick's Day affair. From the birthday

Five Thousand Delegates to Gather at Sacramento
At Annual Meet

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—Representatives of 25,000 Knights of Columbus in California will come to Sacramento for the twentieth annual state convention of the order, to be held here May 7, 8 and 9. District Deputy Frank E. Michel, Jr., heads the general convention committee, which is making preparations to entertain more than 5,000 visitors during the convocation. Visiting delegations will reach Sacramento as early as Saturday, May 5, the entertainment program officially opening on that date.

A grand reception and ball on Saturday night, May 5, will be followed by the religious exercises of Sunday May 6. Special rains and boats are expected here from all parts of the state on Sunday morning, bringing thousands of visitors, many of whom will remain for the convention sessions.

Following a street parade of the Knights of Columbus and various other Catholic societies, Solemn High Mass is to be celebrated at the Cathedral, by Right Rev. P. J. Keane, bishop of Sacramento diocese. In the afternoon a large class of candidates will be initiated into the second and third degrees of Columbianism; and a banquet in the evening will conclude the day's program.

Invite Officials

The convention proper will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with elections of state officers for the new year taking place on Wednesday.

Convention Chairman Michel has officially invited the civic and state officials here to be present at the opening of the convention, which will be one of the most important business convocations ever held in the state of California, due to the great number of resolutions and measures to be taken up at the meetings.

A daily and nightly round of entertainment will be staged from May 4 to Wednesday night, May 9, inclusive, according to Chairman Michel.

Aviators Will Bomb Hidden Bank Bandits

TULSA, Okla., March 28.—An airplane loaded with high explosive bombs and a machine gun, was flying late yesterday afternoon toward a hill at Totem, Okla., where a posse of 200 men had cornered two members of a bandit quartet after killing a third and capturing a fourth.

The bandits had fled to the hill after robbing the Mannford State bank of $300. Al Spencer, notorious Oklahoma bank robber, is believed the leader of the band.

The desperadoes took to the hills when a fire on the motor which they were driving blew out.

March yesterday $7.06 was realized, and from the cooked food sale directed by Mrs. Colin Cable, $15.20.

Mrs. Campbell announced that the Drama section is preparing to present three one-act plays the evenings of April 27 and 28 in the club house auditorium.

COMMENT That's All

Simplifies Tax Problems
You Must Admire Jake
Bond Issue For Airport
Classified Columns Grow

By Gil A. Cowan

IN consideration of matters of revenue and taxation, a subject dear to the hearts of every property owner, it takes a student of political economy to definitely determine all that is going on.

It was interesting to note the statement by M. D. Lack, secretary of the state board of equalization before the joint committee on the subject in the legislature.

"Public service corporations do not pay the taxes. They are tax collectors and not taxpayers. They get theirs from the public which uses their service," he said.

You have there a principle which, if understood, simplifies many problems, especially that of state financing. When Governor Richardson said he intended to save the state several million dollars by holding expenditures within the revenue, it was for the benefit of the people.

And it was particularly for the benefit of those who use the railroads, light and power, telephone, etc. The corporations cannot benefit by it because the railroad commission taxes taxation into consideration in fixing the rates which may be charged.

Legislators are admittedly men without conscience, if some of their own statements are to be believed—and the popular conception of lawmakers remains, but to the writer there are many instances which prove this theory otherwise.

The other evening in the lobby of Hotel Sacramento Assemblyman Jake Croter of Oakland, former coast league umpire, took exception to an editor's remark that the committee on which he served "was a flock of old hens." Hbnest Jake nearly broke his hand on the blatherskite's chin.

Perhaps Jake is too conscientious, but every kid in Oakland knows him—and as a man, he neither drinks, smokes nor chews. Also he feasts and fasts with the members of his faith and votes as his conscience dictates. You have to admire a fellow like that.

Plans are on foot for the purchase of the lands known as Glendale's airport. A bond issue of $49,500 is asked to complete the deal. Already this city has gained that much advertising from the flying field and as time goes on an investment in land which can be used by the water department, manufacturing and airmen is worth any municipality's consideration.

Oakland, for instance, has purchased much property and established a water front, factory sites, etc., to the benefit of the entire bay district. Glendale has no water front, but it does have an ideal location for a flying field. It should be a civic duty to see that these things which private enterprise cannot and will not undertake are cared for in a proper manner.

If Glendale were to invest $60,000 in something which was not windows on both sides. The extreme southern tip of the lot will contain a small accessory store. Between this and the restaurant will be an automobile runway connecting the two streets. This will contain enough gasoline pumps so that four automobiles can be "fed" at once.

Architecture of the entire establishment will be of the Spanish type. The exterior finish will be stucco. The total cost will be about $20,000.

In the near future construction will be commenced upon a new home for Mr. Brown. This will be located not far from his business interests. It will be of Spanish architecture and will cost $20,000. The property surrounding it will be attractively landscaped.

New Tea Garden
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell of 2211 North Verdugo road are not being worried much over the selection of a good name for their new tea garden. Instead, they are busy getting it established.

The skeleton framework for their new four room residence and store is now up and is being surrounded with the sides of the house as rapidly as possible.

The three lots upon which the tea garden will be located are all beautifully wooded. It is believed the native timber will make this picnic grove quite attractive.

The property has a frontage of 182 feet on the west side of Verdugo road about half a mile south of the Verdugo Park.

For three years Mr. Russell was chef for the F. P. Newport Realty Company. He "engineered" the famous Spanish "hand-outs" at the Old Adobe.

'Enigma Fund' Is Paid

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—Interest in the charges made against William S. Hart, "two gun" hero of the movies, by a Boston school teacher, said to be Miss Elizabeth MacCaulley, that he is the father of her four year old boy, centered today around the "enigma fund" furnished each month for the child until it had reached its majority.

Who made the provision no one seems to know. However, the amount is now being paid and it was learned today that Miss MacCaulley, who says she is the child's mother, came to Los Angeles to arrange such a guarantee and then returned to Boston.

BUILD NEW HOME FOR SUBDIVIDER

$18,000 Sparr Heights
Home for H. E. Barnum
Is Now Under Way

Construction work began today upon the new home in Sparr Heights for H. E. Barnum, member of the realty firm of Barnum & Walters.

Although Mr. Barnum had a hard time trying to decide which of the hill slopes surrounding Sparr Heights commanded the best view, he finally selected the top of a knoll about a block east of Verdugo road about three blocks directly east of the new Community Center clubhouse.

The new residence will be a modification of the Spanish type of architecture. It will contain nine rooms and will cost in the neighborhood of $18,000. The building will be of stucco with a tile roof.

"I am not only building a home, but I expect to live in it!" exclaimed Mr. Barnum recently. "That's what I think of Sparr Heights! I will be perfectly satisfied to remain here all the rest of my life."

Plans for landscaping the acre and a half upon which this home will be located are ready and as soon as the progress of the construction has advanced sufficiently, they will be materialized.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnum are hopeful that their home will become the social center of Sparr Heights. With an idea of being as neighborly as possible they will improve their premises with an open air swimming pool, tennis courts, and an open air dance hall in a large box of vines. The native timber and underbrush upon the property will be encouraged to lend itself to the beautification of this home site.

Grading of the hill which has been in progress for the past thirty days, was completed yesterday afternoon. Work of laying the foundation commenced this morning. By the end of the week a showing is expected. Fred Du Bois of Eagle Rock will be the foreman on the job. Mr. Barnum, who has had considerable experience in the building line, will do his own contracting.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnum, who now live in Eagle Rock, are hopeful of being able to move into their new home in about three months. They believe that the beautification of the premises will require at least another month longer.

Two Filling Stations
Montrose is to have a new filling station for both humans and automobiles!

A new gasoline filling station will adjoin the new restaurant which is to be established in Sparr Heights by J. Hilton Brown of Hollywood.

The site of these new enterprises will be upon a triangular piece of property not far from the new Community Center. The property has a frontage of 180 feet upon both Verdugo road and Ocean View avenue, two of the principal streets of the vicinity. The lot has a northern frontage of 57 feet and slopes to the south to the apex of the triangle.

The northern portion of the lot is to be improved by a cafe which will be well lighted by numerous windows on both sides. The extreme southern tip of the lot will contain a small accessory store. Between this and the restaurant will be an automobile runway connecting the two streets. This will contain enough gasoline pumps so that four automobiles can be "fed" at once.

Architecture of the entire establishment will be of the Spanish type. The exterior finish will be stucco. The total cost will be about $20,000.

For Child's Support

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—Interest in the charges made against William S. Hart, "two gun" hero of the movies, by a Boston school teacher, said to be Miss Elizabeth MacCaulley, that he is the father of her four year old boy, centered today around the "enigma fund" furnished each month for the child until it had reached its majority.

Who made the provision no one seems to know. However, the amount is now being paid and it was learned today that Miss MacCaulley, who says she is the child's mother, came to Los Angeles to arrange such a guarantee and then returned to Boston.

TODAY—This is the open season for junketing, and the Capital is nearly deserted, writes H. K. Reynolds, Washington correspondent.

TOMORROW—Much money now in circulation in Middle West, according to report of Chicago Clearing House, writes John D. Mueller, Chicago correspondent.

By H. K. REYNOLDS
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, March 28. — These are quiet days in the National Capital.

After nearly two years of continuous activity at both ends of Pennsylvania avenue, the capital and the White House are deserted and their occupants are scattered to the four corners of the earth.

In the chambers of the Senate and the House of Representatives, mahogany desks are gathering dust while the big corridors echo to occasional footsteps as some legislator wanders through the familiar halls trying to work up enough courage to go back home and tell his constituents why he did this or why he failed to do something else.

Only a few servants occupy the Executive Mansion itself, but at the White House offices a clerk or two is on duty to handle the correspondence that comes to the President in a daily flood, despite the absence of himself and his Congress.

While President Harding is golfing in Florida (and incidentally leading a score of Washington newspaper correspondents on a merry chase through the marshes bordering the Indian river), Secretary of State Hughes is sitting on the lid in the Capital.

Officially and technically, he is in supreme command of all the government that remains in Washington, but the government has a happy faculty of being able to almost run itself, so the Secretary of State has little to do outside of his own department.

The suggestion was made just before the President left that Hughes would have authority to call a Cabinet meeting, but the Secretary lost no time in backing out reminding his colleagues that Robert Lansing tried that once when Woodrow Wilson was out of town and that the venture was one of the things leading up to Lansing's resignation. So there is likely to be no Cabinet meeting until the President gets back.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is also on the job and has been occupied chiefly with putting the finishing touches on the contract under which the United States is going to collect nearly five billion dollars from Great Britain.

The great military establishment of the United States is being commanded by Dwight F. Davis, who rose to that high position within twenty-four hours after President Harding transferred him from the War Finance Corporation to the War Department. Secretary Weeks is down in Florida on a vacation jaunt with Mrs. Weeks.

There has been very little activity at the Department of Justice for many weeks, as Attorney-General Daugherty has been so seriously ill that he could not leave his apartment. But, with the Attorney-General actually out of town, the government's judicial machinery has slowed down more than ever. The War Funds Division, however, which operates almost an independent agency, is still continuing its investigations and prosecutions.

Harry S. New of Indiana, left the Capital almost as soon as the ink began to get dry on the commission which made him a member of President Harding's Cabinet. Within thirty-six hours after he took the oath as Postmaster General he was on his way to his home in Indianapolis to attend a big reception in his honor.

Dr. Hubert Work, who was moved from the postoffice to the Interior Department to make way for Senator New, is so busy learning all about his new job that he hasn't had time to get away.

Theodore Roosevelt is running the Navy Department while Secretary Denby attends the war games in Panama. The trip to Panama was made on the Henderson, Denby taking along a big party of Senators, Congressmen and newspapermen as his guests.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Secretary of Labor Davis are still in Washington, as is

Secretary of Commerce Hoover, though Hoover plans to make a trip to the west as soon as possible to check up on the development of the Colorado River basin.

This is the open season for Congressional junkets. Besides the Navy trip to Panama, which includes stops at a number of cities in the West Indies, there are a number of government tours which offer entertainment for Senators and Congressmen who want to see the world.

When he returns from Florida Secretary of War Weeks will take members of the Military Affairs Committee of the Senate and the House through the Panama Canal to San Francisco, Alaska and Honolulu. The only objection to this trip is that Weeks will turn his guests loose on the Pacific Coast and let them get home any way they can.

A Senate committee, headed by Senator McCormick, of Illinois, will tour the Mississippi river from its source to New Orleans. The object of the McCormick investigation is to collect data so that Congress may proceed intelligently with legislation to make more of the river navigable.

Senator McNary, of Oregon, as chairman of a committee on reforestation, will visit most of the forest lands in the United States from Florida to Oregon.

Another committee will go to Wyoming to inspect the Teapot Dome reserve which was turned over to private oil interests. A few Congressmen will inspect all of the country's coast defenses, while the Senate Banking and Currency committee has been instructed to find out why state banks do not join the Federal Reserve system. As there are 9000 of these banks, members of the committee are planning an early start.

One European trip is on the schedule. In the closing hours of the last session the Senate put through a resolution for an investigation of the gold and silver mining industry. Members of the committee say it will be necessary to go to Europe to get all the information they require.

SCOUTS IN CAMP AT LA CRESCENTA

Ex-Army Officer Regales Boys With Tales of Cuban Adventures

The Boy Scouts of Troop No. 2, Glendale, who went into camp in the oak groves of the Benjamin Robinson estate at La Crescenta on Monday, have been enjoying every minute of their stay so far, according to reports brought to town by H. Benjamin Robinson, scoutmaster of the troop. Twenty boys are in the camp, although this number varies from day to day as some of the boys come and go.

After getting settled in their camp on Monday the boys devoted yesterday to tests in trail building, games and a swim in the magnificent pool on the Robinson estate, and in the evening gathered around a huge camp fire, they were regaled with accounts of adventures in Cuba by Major C. L. Wyman, a retired army officer, and by number of stories by Benjamin Robinson, their host. Francis J. W. Henry led the boys in a Scout "sing" that made the leaves tremble on the oak trees as the boys gave full rein to their vocal talents.

The principal activities for today consist in a game of scout tag, a game of tag, and a game of tag, in which a lot of peanuts will be hidden in the trees and the boys will be turned loose to find them, if possible.

Scoutmaster Robinson reports that all of the boys are well and happy and that every precaution is being taken to safeguard them in every way.

FUSES

Is the Electrical System of your car protected by fuses or by a circuit breaker? If the former, where are the fuses located, and have you spare ones? If you have any spares, where are they and are they of the right carrying capacity? It may be that a fuse will never blow on your car, but on the other hand, one may let go the next time you are out. As a car gets older and its wiring begins to deteriorate the likelihood of short circuits increases. In case a fuse does blow, do not immediately replace it with your spare, as this will probably burn out, too, and leave you fuseless. Instead, momentarily short-circuit with the pliers the fuse clips, from which the dead fuse has been moved. If there is a flash there the short circuit is still on. Identify the circuit which is in trouble and trace it, looking for a point where the insulation is chafed through. Perhaps when the fuse clips are momentarily short-circuited you will notice a puff of smoke or a spark at some point and this will indicate the seat of trouble. By forcing the wire away from the point where current is escaping and winding it with tape or even string, the trouble can be temporarily removed, and when there is no flash obtainable at the fuse clips, the spare fuse can be inserted therein.

WORK BEARINGS RUIN GENERATOR ARMATURE

A. D. S. writes: The generator of my car gave out recently and they told me that it was ruined by the moving part rubbing on the metal inside. I had done nothing to it to cause this to happen and it seems to me the generator must have been a defective one. What is your opinion?

Answer: The generator armature—the rotating part—has to run extremely close to the field magnet poles in order to secure efficiency and this requires that the armature shaft bearings be very accurately fitted. If even a very little play develops in them, through wear, the shaft can drop enough to bring the armature and poles into contact and this usually results in the metal of the armature core being forced into the slots, which grounds the armature windings and ruins them.

With good lubrication the bearings should not wear enough to lead to this accident for a great many thousand miles, but if the bearings are allowed to run dry, they may do so very soon. We fear that the manufacturers would claim that you had failed to keep this generator oiled.

Questions of general interest to the motorist will be answered by Mr. Clough in this column, space permitting. If an immediate answer is desired, enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope.

OBJECT OF ADVANCING THE SPARK

F. W. S. asks: What is the object of advancing the spark?

Answer: The object of advancing the spark is to get the charge to ignite before the piston reaches the top of its stroke. If the spark is retarded, the charge will not ignite until after the piston has passed the top of its stroke, and this will result in a loss of power and a tendency to knock.

When the spark is advanced, the charge ignites before the piston reaches the top of its stroke, and this results in a more efficient combustion and a higher power output.

The amount of spark advance should be adjusted according to the engine speed and the load. At low speeds and light loads, the spark should be retarded, and at high speeds and heavy loads, the spark should be advanced.

Questions of general interest to the motorist will be answered by Mr. Clough in this column, space permitting. If an immediate answer is desired, enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY WELCOMES SPRING

Uncle Wiggily awakened one morning in his hollow stump bungalow and, after Nurse Jane had given him a breakfast of turnip pancakes with maple sugar gravy sprinkled around the edges, the bunny rabbit gentleman put on a red necktie.

"What is that for?" asked Nurse Jane with a surprised look on her face, and she switched her tail around so it would not be stepped on. "Why the red necktie, Wiggily?"

"Because," he answered, "didn't you say, yesterday, that today would be spring, when the little birds would begin to sing?"

"Yes, I did," answered Nurse Jane.

"Well, then," went on Uncle Wiggily, "I am going out to tell Spring how glad I am that she has come and that Winter is going. I am going out on a hill top and sing a song of joy to welcome spring."

"Oh, very well," said Nurse Jane, with a queer look on her face, and she started to wash the dishes in the sink.

Uncle Wiggily looked in the glass to see if his red necktie was on straight, and then he hopped out of doors. He had on a thin suit, and his very thinnest fur coat.

"For," said the bunny to himself, "spring is next to summer, and now that winter has gone I must put off my winter clothes. But I hope I find spring very soon," he went on. "When I see the first flower and hear the first bird, then I'm going back and sit by the fire."

Uncle Wiggily hopped along, his red necktie fluttering in the cold wind (for it was cold), and the bunny looked here and there for the first signs of spring, because, as you know, and as the old song says:

"March the twenty-first is spring, The little birds begin to sing. 'Only,' said Uncle Wiggily to himself, 'I don't hear any singing. I hear the cold wind whistling through the trees.'"

And then, all of a sudden, as the bunny gentleman stood upon the hill top, looking here and there, a rustling noise sounded in the bushes, and out came Uncle Butter, the goat gentleman.

"Are you—er excuse me for asking—but are you looking for Susie's slipper?" asked the goat with a laugh, as he remembered how Uncle Wiggily had slipped down on Susie's icy slide the day before.

"Not at all! Not at all!" said Uncle Wiggily. "I am looking for spring."

"I'll help you look," offered Uncle Butter, the goat.

So the two friends wandered about on the cold, blustery hill top looking for spring. Pretty soon Uncle Wiggily went:

"Ker-choo!"

"What's that?" bleated Uncle Butter.

"I-I ker-sneeze—I ker-sneeze," said Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, so I—ker-foe-zoo—so I—ker-choo—heard!" sneezed Uncle Butter. "If spring doesn't come soon I think I'll go home, for I am catching cold."

"So am I," answered Uncle Wiggily, meaning, "So am I." Still the two friends didn't give

Roads Ask Rehearing On Mileage Ruling

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Petitions asking the reopening of the case under which the railroads were ordered to issue interchangeable mileage books at a 20 per cent discount under the ordinary fare were filed with the interstate commerce commission by Western, Southwestern, Transcontinental and the Baltimore and Ohio railroads. A similar petition was filed by the American Farm bureau federation.

VACUUM TUBES IN TRANSMISSION

The foregoing explanation of the action of the flow of current between filament and plate, commonly called the "plate current," in a vacuum tube applies to the case where the vacuum of the tube is very complete. If there is more than the merest trace of gas in the tube the operation is more complicated and a larger current will flow with the same applied voltage. This is accounted for in the following manner:

In a rarefied gas some of the electrons are constituent part of atoms and some are free. These free electrons move about with great velocity, and if one of them strikes an atom it may dislodge another from the atom. Under the action of the electro-motive force between the plate and filament the newly freed electron will acquire velocity in one direction, which will be similar to that of the colliding electron and the positively charged remainder of the atom will move in the opposite direction. Thus both of the parts of the disrupted atom become carriers of electricity and contribute to the flow of current through the gas. This action of a colliding electron upon an atom is called "ionization by collision," and on account of it relatively large plate currents are obtained in vacuum tubes having a poor vacuum. The earlier tubes were of this sort, but modern tubes as a rule are made with a better vacuum than formerly so that ionization by collision is responsible for but a small part of the current flow. However, tubes such as described are often in demand in radio practice for certain uses and are alluded to as "soft tubes."

Freddie and Friction

TODAY'S SHORT STORY, BY Ad Schuster

"And you, Roy," Amy's troubled eyes looking questioning into those of the young man, "what do you think?"

Some men would have lied. Roy Short hesitated but a moment. "I think, Amy," he said gently, "Price's story is a reasonable one. There seems no other solution."

The girl turned away. Then she paused and faced him again. "So long as you think my brother would do a thing like that there can be nothing between us," her voice faltered. "At least until it is proved beyond any chance for doubt."

This was the end of his love story. Roy Short was convinced as he walked home. Suppose he worked to prove Freddie guilty, what then? Amy could never forget. It was better to give her the comfort of a doubt. He ran the story over in his mind, beginning with the quarrel.

Three months before, Price—a neighbor of Amy's—had caught Freddie loitering in his garage and had ordered the boy out. There was something about the smell of grease and the presence of an engine which seemed to draw the lad's attention. Probably he had meant no harm at first, and another man would have given him the chance to investigate. Price threatened and swore and, at last, resorted to force.

The next chapter was known to everyone in town. While Price was in the garage there was an explosion. A part of the building was burned, the car badly damaged and the owner almost miraculously escaped. Just outside the door they found Freddie, trembling and incoherent.

"It just happened," said Freddie. "There he was beside his car and there I was peeking in. Then the flame jumped up." And he would not change his story.

"It's only on his sister's account I won't prosecute," Price had said, "and not on the boy's. You can't tell he isn't smart. Why, that kid knows more about machinery and electricity than I do. He's got a warped brain, all one track, and a streak of devilry. It was no fool who set that trap with gasoline and a spark."

Trying to convince himself of the boy's innocence, Roy had gone over the place a dozen times and each time was more convinced. "The kid did it," he said to himself, "and it's all off between Amy and me."

Light footfalls behind the disconsolate lover failed to attract his attention. Came a gentle tug at his sleeve. Roy looked down at Freddie, bright-eyed and excited.

"Mr. Short, please," the boy begged, "come with me. I have something to show you."

Back to Amy's home the two walked, then around to the rear where Freddie had his shop in a shed. Freddie was trembling but silent.

"Will you put these on?" He held out a pair of rubber boots. "It means something, really."

Roy looked at the lad and recognized how earnest he was. It would do no harm to humor him. With the boots on, he looked again. Freddie held out a heavy fur coat.

"Look in there," Freddie pointed through a window in a door which opened on a smaller room. "There is some gasoline vapor in there. Not much, and see the wires. Now watch!" Freddie closed a switch. There was a spark two feet from the ground and a flame which puffed and disappeared. "You see," the boy said, "how little it takes to set off."

The older man was intensely interested now. Freddie was trying to prove his innocence. There was a chance he would.

"And now," said Freddie, "don't laugh, please. I want you to walk fast all around the block, then come back here. Don't touch anything on the way."

Roy had never seen so much of anxiety in a face. It was a foolish request and one to prove the boy was not right. Well, he would see it through.

Roy Short walked rapidly around the block. He found the door of the shed open and Freddie seated in the second room. "Don't touch anything and come in here," the lad's voice was shrill. "Now, touch this pipe!"

From the man's hand to the pipe leaped a spark, a spark larger than the one which had jumped from the wires. Freddie was leaning forward.

"Did you see?" he asked. "That's what I saw and I've been all this time figuring it out. Price wore a coat like that and rubber boots. He walked in, and he was walking some distance and the fur rubbed against the rubber. The friction generated electricity and all the time the boots insulated him from the ground. He made the fire without knowing it. Do you believe me?"

"Sure I believe you!" a delighted lover shouted. "And what's more, I'm going to make Price see it and—well, when I am married I am going to fit this out for you as a regular shop and you can monkey all you want with my machine."

At the request of several Column readers I am publishing the following:

Cold Slaw—Remove the outer leaves from a small, heavy cabbage and cut in quarters. Now, with a sharp knife, slice these quarters very thin (unless you have a regular cabbage shredder, which, of course, is handier). Soak the uncooked shredded cabbage in cold water till crisp, then drain. Dry between towels and mix with the following: Cream Salad Dressing. Put into the top part of a double boiler three-fourths of a cup of granulated sugar, one-fourth teaspoon each of salt and mustard, two and one-half tablespoons of melted butter, three-fourths of a cup of rich top milk or cream, one slightly beaten egg and, adding it very slowly, one-fourth cup of vinegar. Cook this mixture over boiling water till it thickens, stirring every minute. Strain and cool before using on the cabbage.

Hot Slaw—Shred one-half of a small cabbage (as above directed), then mix with it the following dressing: Put into the top of your double boiler the beaten yolks of two eggs, one-fourth cup of cold water, one tablespoon of butter, one-half teaspoon of salt and one-fourth cup of hot vinegar. Cook over boiling water till it thickens, stirring constantly. Add to the cabbage while very hot and serve at once.

Mold of Cabbage—Boil one large head of cabbage cut into eighths, until tender, then drain and chop fine. In a trying pan melt four tablespoons of butter, add one chopped onion to it, and fry the onion till a golden brown; stir in two tablespoons of flour, one-half cup of top milk, one-half teaspoon of salt, a pinch of black pepper, and, last, add the chopped and cooked cabbage. Mix well and let cook for ten minutes, then turn all into a buttered and floured mold (just a small deep crockery bowl will do) and bake

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Mrs. S.:—You say most solid foods distress you. Are you mistaking your foods thoroughly? Undoubtedly you will feel better if you will leave out fried food and rich dishes from your diet, as you say you are beginning to do.

Tea and coffee and strong cocoa should also be omitted, and be careful not to overeat of meats. If you are not better after guarding your diet, better have a physical examination. It may be possible that your indigestion is a reflex condition from some other abnormality.

"Dear Doctor:—Will you please send me your pamphlet on reducing, also the one on gaining. I am not both thin and fat, but I am too fat and my neighbor is too thin. I thank you heartily for your excellent health articles in your paper and hope you will continue the good work. Good health does so often solve so many problems."

We have sent on the pamphlet. But you will have to get your neighbor to send for her own, because it is the rule of the office, one pamphlet to one person. This is good work we are doing, isn't it? If you could see the mountains of letters I get every day from our followers, all over the United States and Canada, telling me how much better they feel since they have reduced (or gained) you would realize that I have a very big incentive to continue. I won't be happy until there isn't an excess weight person in America. Won't it be jolly when we never have to be crowded?

Mrs. A.:—If you have been told by two doctors that douches will help cure you, why should you think you need an operation? The hot douches which are advised are very beneficial in many cases. Sometimes they are not effective because they are not taken hot enough. A large hot douche from three to four quarts, should be taken lying down in the bath tub or on a bed pan, and the water as hot as can be borne. The antiseptics that are used may be helpful.

A-Z:—Send a s. a. s. e. for our article on high blood pressure. You will get some help from that. If your doctor has made an examination of the urine and says it is all right I should accept his diagnosis, if I had confidence in him. If I hadn't, I'd see another doctor. You say you have set aside your urine for eight hours and found it clouded at the bottom, with little red specks in it. Normal urine, especially in cold weather, will get cloudy on standing, and some of the normal constituents like uric acid will be precipitated. The red specks in your case were probably uric acid and perfectly normal. See how you have worried over nothing!

You are underweight. Your letter gives evidence of too much thinking about your symptoms. Send for our pamphlet on gaining and see if you don't feel much better when you gain a little. You evidently are not getting enough food to nourish you, and semistarvation will cause all those nervous symptoms you have.

women, myself among them, find it a nervous business to sit idly half an hour while their nails are being treated.

The thing to do then is, not to neglect the nails, but to learn the art of the professional beauty specialist. There are so many manicure aids on the market that no woman can fail to make her nails as attractive as she wants. It takes really very little practice. If you have a long flexible file of good quality steel you cannot fail to shape the nails attractively. If you have a supply of little Prohibition (like T. B., typhoid, diphtheria, etc.) are decreasing. But the deaths from degenerative diseases are increasing, and much of this is on account of overeating and overweight. Fat affects the heart. It causes the heart to labor in proportion to the increase in weight of the body. How surely overweight affects longevity can best be appreciated by looking about to see how many fat people you can discover. Fat old people are rare. Most patients over 60 years old and slim, practically all octogenarians are thin. Fat, usually mistaken for evidence of good health, is in reality a sign of danger.

Foolish Eating
This is, needless to say, not an argument against prohibition, but an argument against over-eating and foolish eating.

I have always held that the women who upset their stomachs with rich college ices and candies, eaten at a time when the stomach should be having a well-earned rest, were as foolish, from a health standpoint, as the men who ruined their digestions with drinking.

And now the insurance companies tell us that even if the digestion manages to handle these superfluous foods and convert them into fat, we are still sinning against our health. Stored up fat is excess baggage and Nature doesn't carry around excess baggage without charging for it.

What You Should Weigh
Of course there is no need to go to the opposite extremes, as so many women do nowadays, and make an idol of thinness. Somewhere between is the happy medium both of youth and health. You can easily find out what you should weigh for your height, and if you weigh within ten pounds of that you will not offend seriously against your health or your appearance. Most people prefer to have it ten pounds under, because ten pounds over is such a dangerous start toward the swiftly rolling snowball of overweight, and

PROFESSIONALLY CARED FOR NAILS

Every woman likes to have finger nails that look as though they had recently come from the skilled attention of the professional manicurist. But it is not so easy to have such nails. It takes a great deal of money and, what is worse, a great deal of time to visit a manicurist frequently, and some emery boards you can give the nails a perfectly smooth finish. If you soak the fingers for a few minutes in a bowl of warm soapy water you can probably scrape off the dead cuticle and push back the rest to make a properly smooth finish, clipping off the loose bits of skin that make the nail unsightly. If you do not feel skillful enough to do this for your self you can use any one of the numerous cuticle removers which are on the market, which are generally weak solutions of oxalic acid and which bleach the nails while removing the dead skin. These acids are very drying, however, and if used should be carefully scrubbed off and the nails rubbed with a heavy cream.

The polishing of the nails is easy, requiring only a good powder or paste and a fairly large, soft polisher. A good gloss will cover up any number of manicure defects. With a little practice any woman can have nice finger tips.

The World Over

By FRANKLIN B. MORSE.
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

The recent well-earned victory of Harvey Snodgrass over the world famous "Little Bill" Johnston has caused a flutter of comment in tennis circles all over the country. The victory was achieved by Snodgrass in the southern California tennis singles title race, and at first glance it looks as though Johnston may not be the Johnston of old.

If the fans stop to analyze the situation, however, a defeat at this early time of the tennis season is not as bad as it looks. It is only a few weeks ago that "Big Bill" Tilden was also beaten in the east and yet no one thinks for one minute that the same man will be able to vanquish Tilden when the tennis season proper comes around. The same holds good for Johnston.

A champion in any line of sports endeavor is never at his best in the early pre-season stages of any sport. A champion brings himself up to that pitch of finesse that is necessary by easy stages. Johnston, for example, had not had any work on the courts that he would have been going east for the national titles or the Davis cup, and that is solid reason for his defeat.

Johnston has been beaten every year that he has played in the "upper strata" of tennis in the early season matches. That he has retrieved those defeats later is known to all tennis fans. Take the last three years as an instance in point. In 1921 he was beaten about this same period of play by Roland Roberts, 6-4, 6-4, 6-2, and Roberts is one of the nation's recognized stars. In 1922 it was Wallace Bates of the University of California who beat

Johnston, and this in straight sets, 9-7, 6-0, the last set a truly surprising feature. Here again Bates is an outstanding national figure and particularly so in intercollegiate tennis. Then we have the defeat recently by Snodgrass.

Both Roberts and Bates fell before Johnston's mastery game later in the seasons referred to and the next time Snodgrass meets Johnston the southern California champion will find an altogether different Bill Johnston to the one he defeated early in March.

Johnston is not through by any means. His defeat by Snodgrass has created the thought that the little man of the courts has seen his best day. That is the identical line of talk assumed by some people in 1921 and 1922 when he was beaten in pre-season matches. Bill Johnston, when the time comes, will be the same as he has been in other seasons. Some day, of course, will have to give way. He has been beaten by Tilden time and again and he also has his wins over Tilden, but any man who can beat either Tilden or Johnston must, of necessity, be a super-tennis player. By that we do not refer to preliminary season play, but to that time of the season when each man is at the apex of his best form, right on top of his game and physically fit for a struggle. When Bill Johnston goes east this year he will again prove that he is a worthy representative for the Davis cup matches. He does not expect to reach the top of his form when he lands in the east, but the preliminary eastern tournaments will be the final training period of his work to prepare him for the nationals and the Davis cup.

Veterans and Recruits Are Chicago's Hopes in Pennant Race

By HAROLD JOHNSON
For International News Service
SEGUIN, Texas, March 28.—Pitching of a vastly improved calibre is promised the Chicago White Sox this season. Moreover, the infield, reinforced by the acquisition of Willie Kamm, $100,000 third baseman, last season with the San Francisco Seals, will be faster and more reliable than any other group assembled by Kid Gleason since the dismantling of his once peerless machine.

From the initial bell on April 18, Chicago should be a pennant contender in the American league—a cocksure one, two, three entry.

Dead timber has practically been eliminated. At the start of the conditioning grind, Manager Gleason was handicapped by the customary batch of hold-outs, but at this time there are only two absentees—Ernie Johnson, veteran shortstop, and Charlie Robertson, a right hander who last season pitched a no-hit perfect ball game against Detroit. It is believed that Johnson will soon enroll with the club. The management professes to be unconcerned over the status of Robertson.

Two Fast Kids

Manager Gleason has made rapid strides in pointing his infield. Besides Kamm, and the veterans, Collins and Sheeley, he has been fortunate in uncovering two promising youngsters in Leo Taylor, a Butte semi-professional, and Louie Rosenberg, who hails from the sand lots of San Francisco. Both are fast.

In addition to the 1922 pitching staff the Sox have acquired two strong right handers in Frank Woodward, the iron man of the Eastern league, and George Connelly, formerly of Toronto.

Stubby Mack, who came to the club from Seattle in a $25,000 deal, is another right hander regarded as a fixture.

An aquatic carnival held for the purpose of interesting the youth in the pleasant and, what is more important, the useful advantages of knowing how to swim is fostered by Coronado Tent City, California, and held annually at that place. It is set apart for the Boy Scouts and is open to all members of this organization. There are very much worth while prizes offered in the various competitions and it is doing a lot to start youngsters in getting acquainted with self care in the water. This year's event will be held July 7, according to an announcement just made, and hundreds of Boy Scouts will be entered in the various events. The events are scheduled as follows:

Junior events: for all scouts under 15 years of age; 25 yard dash, 50 yard dash; backstroke; 50 yard dash, breast stroke; 220 yard relay, and fancy diving.

Senior events, for all scouts over 14 years of age; 100 yard dash, 50 yard dash, backstroke; 50 yard dash, breast stroke; 220 yard relay, 440 yard relay and fancy diving.

There are many persons predicting that the turn in political affairs in the Pacific Coast baseball league will spell the finish of William H. McCarthy as its president. Doubtless there is no man in the country, who cares less what it spells than McCarthy himself. He has a business that brings him in many times more than the salary he receives as the head of the league and the chances are that he only accepted the position because he felt he could do something for the advancement of the national game. McCarthy has a host of friends who believe that he has done more than any one individual to keep the sport on a high plane on the coast as witnessed by his stands in the case of gambling and misbehaving players. They figure any loss will be all on the part of the league and not on McCarthy's side.

Heydler Denies Any Quarrel With Landis

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—John Heydler, president of the National league, here today winding up a month's vacation spent in California, declared before taking a train for the east that he had no quarrel with Judge Landis, high commissioner of baseball, over Landis' decision in the Rube Benton case.

"I accept Judge Landis' decision as I have all of his rulings. Whatever issue there is lies between the Cincinnati club and the National league."

HOWE, Ind., March 28.—Eleven thousand sparrow heads and 300 rat tails were the net result of a campaign waged in Springfield township, Lagrange county, to rid the section of the birds and rodents, held by farmers to be a menace. A similar contest was conducted in Greenfield township, where thousands of sparrows and hundreds of rats were killed.

N. Y. Governor Urges Using Water Power

ALBANY, March 28.—Declaring that the St. Lawrence and Niagara rivers are capable of furnishing sufficient electrical power for the needs of every resident of the state, and that the energy easily can be transmitted to every municipality, Governor Smith has sent a special message to the legislature urging state development and control of the waterpower resources.

Lumber Co.'s Plant Wiped Out by Fire

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—Swept by a fire of undetermined origin the property of the American Lumber Company in Santa Monica boulevard was reduced to ashes and two big motion picture studios narrowly escaped destruction by the flames.

Only the strenuous work of volunteer fire fighters from the nearby film plants, who were hastily organized into hose and bucket brigades, prevented the spread of the fire.

Narcotic Thefts From Army Stores Revealed

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Drug addicts are securing vast quantities of narcotics illicitly from army warehouses, Colonel L. G. Nutt, secretary to the federal narcotic control board, declared at a conference between drug manufacturers, and federal authorities.

Enormous supplies of drugs—unit for legitimate use, Nutt revealed, are leaking from these warehouses into the hands of a ring of dope peddlers.

Three Deny Charges Of Alienating Love

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—Answers of three of the numerous alleged love conspirators named as defendants by Mrs. Sarah Jane Stonehouse, formerly Jane Harlan, circus equestrienne, in her suit for $100,000 for alleged stolen love were filed in the superior court. The three defendants denied the charges of the former bareback rider that they alienated the affections of her husband, Alpheus G. Barnes, Stonehouse, better known as Al G. Barnes.

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—The bifurcated legislative session was saved from extinction when the senate voted down a proposed constitutional amendment which would have abolished it. Indigestion Unchecked Leads to Poisoning!

If you suffer from indigestion it is a sure sign that your system is being slowly poisoned by the fermentation in the intestines. This condition produces heartburn, choking sensations in the chest, a feeling of heaviness or drowsiness, irritability, discouragement and despondency. These symptoms call for Dr. A. W. Chase's K. L. Pills, which, taken in time, will offset the poison in the system. Read what one former sufferer has to say:

"Mrs. Lottie J. Dewitt, No. 167 Front St., Fort Jervis, New York, writes: 'I am glad to say your Medicine is wonderful. For over three years I had Kidney and Bladder trouble and a tired worn out feeling and I spent hundreds of dollars for treatments and failed to get any relief. When I saw your address in the paper I sent and got Dr. A. W. Chase's K. L. Pills and today I feel like a new person. Your medicine is wonderful and the best in the world for Kidney and Bladder trouble.'"

You can buy Dr. Chase's remedies at all drug stores. To be sure of getting the genuine, see that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on each box—your protection against imitations. Dr. A. W. CHASE MEDICINE CO., 257 Washington St., Buffalo, N. Y.

LEWIS TALKS OF SALT LAKE CLUB

Manager Predicts Winning Season as Players Round Into Form

By DUFFY LEWIS
Manager Salt Lake Baseball Club.
Written for International News Service
FRESNO, Calif., March 28.—Naturally the manager of a baseball club is cautious about making predictions about what his organization is going to do. Very often the best looking clubs, through injuries or other mischance, fail to live up to their pre-season promise. If all goes well, however, a manager usually has a pretty good idea at the start of a season of what his club ought to do—whether it does it or not.

Now, the Salt Lake club has what I account a great pitching staff. There are five pitchers on the club whose record of games won and lost last year was better than 500. In view of the fact that the club finished with a percentage of .473, it will be seen that the pitching of four of these men who were with us last year was a good deal better than the club in other departments. These five pitchers are:

Winning Pitchers
McCabe, .600, Combe, San Francisco last year, .588, Kallio .586, Gould .533, Blackholder .500. Myers, who is everywhere conceded a great pitcher, I am confident, will be a big winner this year. Singleton, who comes from the majors, should have a good year.

The records show that our regular outfield can hit the ball. We have with us again Paul Strand, who hit .384 last year, and who set a world's record by making 289 hits in a single season. He led in home runs, with twenty-eight, and broke the modern coast league consecutive game hitting record with 24 or 35. Joe Wilhoit hit .317 and is a good hitter in any company. I had the good fortune to hit .362 last year. All of us feel confident of having another good year.

YANKS TO START WITH '22 LINEUP

Spring Training Fails to Develop New Talent Among Players

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service
NEW YORK, March 28.—Quite according to custom, the New York Yanks have spent twenty-one days in their training camp, and thousands of dollars in purchases and expenses, without having anything to show for it except the original line-up, which finished the season in 1922. Miller Huggins, the conservative, will again stand pat, partly because he would not do otherwise if he could, but in the main because he could not if he would. It has been another one of those profitless training trips.

The Yanks apparently embark on their annual tour of the south merely as a convention. Seldom do they develop a player of their own selection. If they cannot buy the man they want from another major league club, they must worry along with what they have. "Do you know that in all the years I have been associated with this ball club, not a single player sent back to the minors, for further seasoning has ever been any good to us?" Colonel Huston asked the writer, recently. "Our rookies apparently remain rookies for the rest of their days."

"What's the answer?" was asked. "System," was the cryptic answer. "Bad, very bad."

Lou Daro Challenges Hackensmidt to Bout

John Hackensmidt, of Glendale, will, no doubt, be surprised to learn he has been challenged by Lou Daro to a finish affair with Lou's "unknown man."

Daro is a promoter who enjoys a nationwide wrestling reputation, and is putting on an athletic show at the Glendale Industrial exposition in May, when his "unknown man" will appear in person. He can be reached at the Commodore hotel, Los Angeles.

Legion Bowling Team Holds Meet Tonight

The local American Legion bowling team will hold its first meeting at 8 o'clock tonight, at the Glendale Recreation club. Jensen's shops, 133 North Brand boulevard, announces A. G. Wheelon. All interested are invited to turn out.

Mr. Wheelon also calls attention to the fact that this afternoon is regular mid-week practice hour for the Legion ball team, when a tryout will be given all ex-service men appearing on the Wilson and San Fernando diamond at 4:30 o'clock.

First English smoker was Ralph Lane, the first governor of Virginia.

J. A. NEWTON CO. EMPLOYEES GUESTS

Social Gathering at Home Of Concern's Head; Plan For Annual Picnic

The employees of the J. A. Newton Electric Company were entertained last night by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Newton, at their home, 521 North Jackson street.

Twenty-five employees were present, making with their wives and friends an assemblage of over forty.

A musical program was given, consisting of a piano number by Mrs. W. S. Hunter, a vocal number by O. W. Andersen, a violin and piano duet by Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hunter, and a vocal solo by W. L. Hyde.

Following the program, Mr. Newton gave a talk on the company's plans for the year, and committees were then appointed to arrange for the company's annual picnic, to be held in Long Beach, probably at Biggs park, Wednesday, May 30.

Refreshments were served, Mrs. O. W. Andersen and Mrs. W. E. Hubbard, wives of Mr. Newton's associates in the company, assisting Mrs. Newton as hostesses.

Asks Public Inquiry Into Bus Question

had been the greatest factor in the development of Glendale and he advocated that the City Council be asked to investigate closely the responsibility of anyone seeking a franchise, and that the permits to run busses in the streets of Glendale be held up until such investigation could be made. R. F. Kitterman also urged that the Glendale organization be asked to establish its claims to financial solidity before the franchise be issued to it.

L. H. Wilson declared that only one side of the question had been laid before the meeting yesterday, and he stated that the subject should be thoroughly debated before any action was taken, asserting that Mr. Kent and Mr. Edwards would only relieve one section of the city by granting the Pacific Electric application, while permitting it to block the spread of the sorely-needed transportation for Glendale in other directions. Dan Campbell favored granting the franchise to Gulick and his organization, if they could prove their ability to handle it, but until such time he favored the withholding the granting of any franchise.

Evangelist Jeter Is Welcomed by Crowds

A crowded tabernacle greeted Jerry Jeter, evangelist, in his opening meeting last night at the big auditorium on East Broadway and Cedar street.

The meeting was marked by the old-time revival spirit, and it is stated that several hundred people were present. Mr. Hollingshead, who played for the Moody and Sankey meet-

EAGLE ROCK FOR L. A. ANNEXATION

Votes to Become Part of Greater City by Just 297 Majority

Annexation won yesterday in Eagle Rock by a majority of 297 votes, in one of the greatest shows of balloting strength ever registered in the community, 1917 citizens, or about seventy-five per cent of the voting population, making known their will at the polls.

The vote will now be canvassed, officials state, after which Eagle Rock's offer must be accepted by Los Angeles, and then the secretary of state, at Sacramento, must put his "okey" on the matter. All of which will take at least forty days—so Eagle Rock is not yet part of Los Angeles, say anti-annexationists. And "There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip," they declare.

In polling the vote, the women were as active as the men, campaigning energetically for and against the proposal.

At times excitement ran high. Before 8 o'clock in the morning the annexationists organized a parade and marched through the town, bearing banners urging adoption of the measure. One poster bore the vivid slogan, "No more bugs in our water!"

While the parade was in progress, anti-annexationists, sent a "flying detachment" through the town and covered pro signs with placards urging a vote against the proposition. Lewis B. Reed, 59 years old, was brought to the polls in an automobile to register his vote for annexation. He was heartily cheered by the crowd as he stepped from the machine.

If the balance of the proceedings incident to the annexation of Eagle Rock with Los Angeles go through without a hitch, the southwestern metropolis will thereby increase by about 6500 its population.

Evangelist Jeter announced that tonight he will draw the faces of many people, to let their neighbors see them from the cartooning standpoint.

AMERICANISM

THREE times during the last two years the American Legion has sounded the call of national mobilization in behalf of the school children of America.

Last December Legion posts in practically every town and city in the country made the schoolhouses rallying places for democracy during a whole week. In conjunction with the National Education association, composed of the representative educators of the country, the Legion proceeded systematically to present to the public all the facts which enter in the problem of making our schools better. During an entire week meetings were held in schoolhouses, where parents watched their children working at their tasks and heard their children's teachers explain how methods of instruction had changed since the little red schoolhouse had been superseded by the modern city and rural buildings in which standardized courses are taught.

Legion posts formed committees for Education Week and drew up a week's program in almost every community. Arrangements were made for meetings of Chambers of Commerce, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs and similar organizations, in addition to those held in the schools. Pastors of churches delivered sermons on educational themes. The result of all this was a tremendous awakening of interest in the schools on the part of the people of the country. Superintendents of schools, principals and teachers testified enthusiastically to the good accomplished, and the National Americanism Commission of the Legion, which had directed the Legion's part in the week's observance, decided that Education Week should have an annual place on the Legion's calendar. At present plans are being made for an even more notable observance of the week this year.

During the last few months, the National Americanism Commission enlisted the thousands of school children of each state in the Legion's National Essay Contest, which was opened with the announcement of $2,000 in prizes offered by National Commander MacNider. The prizes consisted of scholarships and medals and were awarded to the children who wrote the best essays on the subject, "How the American Legion Can Best Serve the Nation." More than 75,000 copies of the rules of the contest were distributed to schools.

In addition to the work of aiding education, the National Americanism Commission has carried on many other projects. A study has been made of the problem of violent and revolutionary radicalism and steps have been taken to combat it. The commission also helped obtain passage of the law by congress extending for another year the 3 per cent immigration restriction.

HOTEL MEN WILL MEET COMMITTEE

Establishment of Hostelry in Glendale Depends on Final Report

Representatives of the Hockinberry system of hotels, who have been in Glendale for some time past investigating local conditions, have asked for the appointment of an executive committee of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, through which they may take up the final plans for the establishment of one of their hotels here. Other committees have been investigating the hotel project for some time past and the result of their work will be discussed by the hotel men and the executive committee, consisting of W. E. Hewitt and George B. Karr, who will act as a sort of clearing house for the accumulated data that has been compiled on the subject.

The result of the final findings will be communicated by the hotel men to their principals in New York, and it is expected that a decision will be reached within a short time as to whether Glendale is to be selected as the site for one of the Hockinberry hotels or not.

The Hockinberry organization is working on a comprehensive plan at this time which it will establish a chain of hotels from San Diego to Vancouver, each hotel to be located a day's journey by automobile from the next one, so that travelers may be assured of finding a hotel belonging to this system at regular intervals all up and down the west coast. The Hockinberry hotels provide bungalow and cafeteria service at moderate cost, so that the travelers are not charged exorbitant prices at any stage of their trip.

Christian Service Is Pre-Easter Topic

Dr. Herbert Booth Smith was the speaker yesterday noon at the pre-Easter noon service in the Glendale theatre, taking the place of Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, who was unable to be present because of illness.

Preliminary to Dr. Smith's message Paul Carson gave an organ number, Parke Arnold led the community singing and Mrs. Paul Elliott of the Baptist church gave a solo.

Dr. Smith spoke on "Christian Service" as illustrated by the story of Christ in the home of Martha and Mary in Bethany. He said: "We need Marthas for the needs of our bodies and the care of our homes and to keep the wheels of industry oiled, but in the rushing, noisy, congested days we need to go with Mary into the quiet place of prayer and meditation at the Master's feet."

John Robert White Goes to New York

Court Disposes of Long Pending Suit

The notorious Blackstock case, which has been "postrering" local police records for almost a year, was settled yesterday.

H. B. Blackstock of Los Angeles was arrested the night of June 24 last while motoring on South Verdugo road while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

For twelve times his case was continued. Nine times a quartet of witnesses from the police department were subpoenaed as witnesses. Each time they lost half a day's work and considerable temper. The cost to the city of Glendale amounted to over $100.

Judge John W. Shenk, sitting in department 17 of the superior court, finally disposed of the case by assessing Blackstock a fine of $500—suspending $450 of it and giving him thirty days to raise the balance of $50.
